LEE AND WHEELER.

List of Military Appointments By the President.

Gen. Castelman Is Turned Down But His Son Is Made an Ensign in the Navy.

Washington, May 4.—The President to-day sent these nominations to the Senate:

Schran, Assistant Adjutant-General; William Ludlow, Corps of Engineers; Adna R. Chaffee, Third Cavalry; George W. Davis, Fourteenth Infantry; Alfred E. Bates, Deputy Paymaster-General.

Also a long list of officers of lower grades. Among the naval cadets made ensigns was Kenneth G. Castelman, of Kentucky.

What May Come Later.

Now that we are in the midst of war it is worth while to take a glance at the pension lists of previous wars. The New York Journal has prepared these figures:

The pension expenditures for the fiscal year 1899, thirty-four years after the close of the war, will reach $150,000,000. What does this mean?

It means the interest at 3 per cent. on a debt of $5,000,000,000, which is more than any national debt in the world except that of France.

It is more than the combined expenditures for all purposes of all States in the Union. That is to say, if the money spent for pensions were divided among the States, all taxation for State purposes could be dispensed with.

It is more than eight times the combined revenue of all the universities and colleges of the United States, and almost as much as the cost of all the public schools.

It is more than what we are accustomed to call the "crushing burden" of any army in Europe.

It is enough for fortifying our coast impenetrably in eight months and for building the finest navy in the world in two years.

If we spent for pensions twice as much every year as Garfield said over 20 years ago would be the highest amount ever required, the difference between that and the sum we are paying now would clear off our entire bonded national debt in ten years. After that it would more than pay the interest on the bonds required to give the government control of all the railroads in the United States.

Our pension outlay for six months would build the Nicaragua canal, and in another six months it would duplicate the Western Union Telegraph system for the benefit of the public.

If the pension roll had been confirmed to double the Garfield standard, we should never have had a deficit in a single year, and instead of issuing new bonds to make both ends meet we should have exhibited to the world long before now the remarkable spectacle of a government out of debt and reducing taxes to cut down its surplus revenues.

As long as the pension leak continues at its present dimensions it will be useless for Secretary Gage or anybody else to formulate financial policies with the idea of relieving the distress of the treasury.

To Join the Cavalry.

A number of young gentlemen of this city and county who are expert horsemen have forwarded their names to the governor offering their services in the cavalry companies being organized at Lexington to join "Teddy" Roosevelt's Rough Riders.

Laid on the Table.

Washington, May 4. A vote, which was in the nature of a test on the income tax, was taken in the Senate when an amendment by Mr. Mills was laid on the table by a vote of 32 to 29.

GEN. WESLEY MERRITT.

Why the Ranking Major General Is to Be Turned Down.

Washington, May 4.—The talk about sending Gen. Wesley Merritt to the Philippine islands at the head of a corps of volunteers instead of giving him an active command on this hemisphere recalls the scandal concerning Secretary Alger's desertion during the rebellion. Alger was a colonel in Merritt's command, and having obtained sick leave went to a hospital. Before the exhibition of his leave he came to Washington and obtained a detail here in the war department without consulting his superior officer. Merritt was indignant, and in an official report to the secretary of war charged Alger with desertion in the face of the enemy, and the record stood until a few years ago. Gen. Merritt is second in rank of the officers of the regular army, with headquarters at New York, and naturally should be given the most conspicuous command in the field, but thus far he remains unassigned, although he has repeatedly offered his services. His friends assume that the indifference with which he has been treated is due to Gen. Alger's resentment, and now it is proposed to send him to Manila, where of course he would have a responsible position, but not so responsible or advantageous in a military sense as the command of the army of invasion, which has been given to Gen. Brooke, his subordinate.

STILL NO NEWS FROM COMMODORE DEWEY.

Washington Is Waiting Impatiently For Official Confirmation.

SAMPSON'S FLEET WEIGHS ANCHOR AND DEPARTS FROM HAVANA.

A Great Sea Fight May Take Place Near Porto Rico—Oregon and Marietta Sail From Rio.

Washington, May 4.—(Special).—The view is held at Madrid that Admiral Dewey, after the defeat and destruction of the Spanish fleet in Manila harbor, picked up the cable connecting with Hong Kong, but has not been able to use it, having no instruments at his command. The officials here are close mouthed concerning the operations in the East and no confirmation has been given of the report that a message in cipher had been received from Dewey.

The dispatch boat Hugh McCulloch, attached to Dewey's fleet, has arrived at Hong Kong, the nearest cable station to the theater of action. The boat brought no news of the battle, having left before the engagement took place. It may be stated with absolute certainty that the department has received no official news from Admiral Dewey, and the fall of Manila, while most probably true, lacks official confirmation.

Flying Squadron to Sail.

On Board Flagship off Fortress Monroe. (Special).—It is expected here that the Flying Squadron will sail from here under sealed orders within the next 24 hours.

Seizure of Both Islands.

Washington, May 4.—Annihilation of the Spanish fleet supposed to be approaching American waters, occupation of the Philippines, seizure of Porto Rico and capture of Havana are the important war movements now in prospect.

The news from Key West indicates that a powerful squadron will be detached from the blackading fleet to meet the Spanish ships. The fast vessels under Schley will augment the force to be thrown against the Spanish.

The Navy Department is not yet greatly worried about the Oregon. Her thirteen-inch guns would do great damage to attacking squadrons.

The Board of Strategy hopes to get news of the Spanish ships through our scouting cruisers. If it shall appear that a movement against the Oregon is in view, assistance will be sent the battleship at once, and it is probably for this emergency that Sampson is preparing.

Sampson's Squadron Has Sailed.

Key West, Fla., May 4.—This harbor is again empty. Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet has sailed, and the situation is one of the renewed expectancy. There is a strong impression prevailing that the next news from the fleet will tell of an important engagement of the same character as the Asiatic squadron's Manila victory. Until then, no interesting developments are expected, except possibly the bringing in of new prizes.

Oregon Leaves Rio.

Buenos Ayres, via Galveston, Tex., May 4.—A dispatch just received from Rio Janeiro announces that the United States battleship Oregon and the United States gunboat Marietta have sailed. The United States dynamite cruiser Nichthory will follow them, probably this evening.

Catchem Boys, Catchem.

Key West, May 4.—Havana papers announce the secret flight of local bankers Gelato and Guin, and of Tanarey, a wealthy Spanish merchant. The three left in a small schooner carrying an immense amount of money and valuables. The American ships are searching for this treasure trove and the crew of the one that capture it will make a fortune. Rothschild's agents have shipped nearly $2,000,000 from Havana.

The resignation of the Queen Regent is seriously considered at Vienna to save the Spanish throne.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, May 4.—Today's statement of the condition of the treasury shows: Available cash balance, $213,223,167; gold reserve, $181,215,689.

KENTUCKY DERBY.

Plaudit Captures the Rich Stake With Lieber Karl Close Second.

A number of Hopkinsville gentlemen were in Louisville yesterday to see the great Kentucky derby run at Church Hill Downs. This classic turf event of the West is worth this year $60,000. There were four entries, namely Isabeau, 117 pounds; Plaudit, 117; Han D'or, 117; Dr. Black, 117; Lieber Karl, 122. Dr. Black was scratched before the start. The race was won by Plaudit by half a length after an exciting finish. Lieber Karl, who was the favorite in the betting, finished second, and Isabeau third. Time 2:09. The pooling was as follows: Lieber Karl, $180; Plaudit, $100; Han D'or, $25; Isabeau, $17; Dr. Black, $15.

Grain Market Strong.

Chicago, May 4.—Wheat opened strong in sympathy with the Liverpool market, which started $\frac{3}{8}$ ¢ higher on the removal of the French import duty. The trade was without special feature except for the May option, which opened unchanged at \$1.21 and advanced to \$1.30 on a very lively trading.

Corn opened strong with wheat, but closed off on profit-taking. July started $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ higher at 34¢ $\frac{3}{4}$ ¢, declined to 33¢ and rallied to 33¢ $\frac{3}{4}$ ¢.

Oats were quiet but firm. July opened $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ higher at 25¢, declined to 25¢ and rallied to 25¢ $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢.

Provisions were strong steady buying of lard by packers and continued good cash demand for meats. July pork opened 10¢ $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ higher at \$11.25 to \$11.30.

The Louisville Dispatch.

One of the best things we have seen concerning the Dispatch is the following from the Anderson News: "Just before the first number of the Louisville Dispatch appeared, Mr. E. T. Johnson, agent for the paper at this place, was taking orders for the initial number. A friend of his remarked that he did not care for the first copy, but would give 25¢ for a copy that should come out one year from that date. An agreement was then and there entered into by which Mr. Johnson should furnish a copy of the Dispatch printed one year from that date or forfeit five dollars. The year expired last Friday, and Mr. Johnson took great delight in delivering the paper as per contract and, in so doing, made the following presentation speech: 'I take great pleasure in fulfilling my agreement entered into twelve months ago, by delivering to you this valuable paper and kindly ask a surrender of my bond executed to guarantee delivery. Also allow me to congratulate you on your good fortune in obtaining such wholesome literature at the trifling cost of 25¢, and hope that you will be so edified and enlightened by its perusal as to encourage you to imitate the example of the prodigal son of biblical notoriety, in which case I can guarantee of the slaughter of the fatted young bovine, and promise a repetition of the scene in which there was more rejoicing over the one sinner that returned than over the ninety and nine that went not astray.' The little incident was thoroughly enjoyed by all parties concerned, and a like arrangement was entered into for another year. Mr. Johnson certainly has great confidence in the staying qualities of his paper where he puts up odds at the ratio of 20 to 1.

Professor Norton probably is right when he says that "war between civilized nations is infamous," but that remark doesn't include Spain.—Ex.

WANT THE CURFEW.

Ladies Will Ask Council to Pass An Ordinance.

Provisions of the Proposed Law Set Forth—Action Probably Taken to-morrow Night.

A number of ladies of this city have interested themselves in the passage of a curfew ordinance. They desire the enactment of a law similar to the measure now pending before the city council of Owensboro, and which is in operation in many of the larger cities. The council will be asked to take some action on the matter at the meeting to-morrow night.

The ordinance which the Owensboro council is asked to pass provides that it shall be unlawful for children under fifteen years of age to be upon the streets of Owensboro after the hour of 9 p. m. for the period beginning the first day of May and ending the first day of October each year, and after the hour of 8 p. m., beginning the first day of October and ending the first day of May.

The ordinance makes it the duty of parents, guardians or persons having control of all children under fifteen years of age to see that such children are off of the streets after hours of the respective periods mentioned in the foregoing.

It will be the duty of the chief of the fire department to have the bell at engine house No. 1 make nine taps at the hours mentioned, and it then becomes the duty of parents, guardians or persons having control of children under fifteen years of age, to see that they are immediately retired from the streets. The failure to tap the bell will be no exemption to persons charged with children violating this ordinance. The penalty for violation of the ordinance is a fine of not less than $1 nor more than $5 for each offense. The ordinance makes it the duty of the chief and the other policeman to see that the provisions are strictly enforced.

The ordinance does not apply to any children who are accompanied on the streets by their parents, guardians or other persons having them under their control and management; nor to children under the charge of person delegated to watch over them by a parent or guardian, while on the streets.

Newspaper Correspondents.

Washington, May 4.—One hundred and thirty-five passes giving permission for correspondents of newspapers to accompany the army have so far been issued by Secretary Alger. One of these was to Mrs. K. B. Watkins, representing a Toronto newspaper, and is the only one issued up to this time to a representative of the gentler sex. Many other applications have been filed with the Secretary.

It is safe to say that many of the boy babies for this month will be named George Dewey.

It is said Admiral Montejó, who was so badly whipped at Manila, is known in Spain as "the Fighting Admiral."

The 15,000 yellow fever innocines to be enlisted will all come from the South. North Carolina's quota will all be colored.

It is said that Brazil will probably give the Oregon a convoy and see that nothing happens to it while in Brazilian waters.

The latest from Frankfort is that the Kentucky troops have been so slow in starting that they are reliable not to be needed at all. This probably explains the delay in ordering the troops to move.

It is possible that some mistake may have been made in making up the carriers' routes by which papers are not being delivered as directed. Let the office know of any complaints and they will be promptly corrected.

The Madisonville Hustler, one of the most prosperous and enterprising papers in the Second district, finds two issues a week too slow for war times, and is now issued as an evening daily, that is in every sense a creditable sheet.

Commodore Dewey is just now experiencing a taste of hero worship, all unconscious of it as yet. The plucky seaman deserves great praise but he only did his duty as other officers are ready to do theirs if given the opportunity.

It is believed at the naval department that the Spanish fleet is on its way to Porto Rico and that the next battle will be in that vicinity. Three fast cruisers from Admiral Sampson's fleet have been sent out to watch for its approach and return with the news in advance of the arrival of the heavy ironclads.

We have not started THE DAILY KENTUCKIAN as a "war paper." There was a demand for a morning paper in the city and THE KENTUCKIAN has painted upon its wheelhouse the legend: "Come-to-stay."

The Oregon, the Marietta and the dynamiter Netheroy will soon be together at Bahia and will constitute quite a formidable little fleet that ought to be able to take pretty good care of itself, even if the Spanish fleet should attempt to head it off.

Mr. C. F. Jarrett, of this city, will deliver an address on the subject of tobacco culture at the Commercial Convention in Louisville next week. Mr. Jarrett is one of the best posted tobacco men in the State and his address is sure to be interesting and instructive.

The President has refused to appoint Bob Taylor to command his own State troops, and in turning down both Gov. Taylor and Mr. Bryan he has served notice that no civilians will be appointed to desirable commands. All of the soft snappers those given to Lee and Wheeler, will be saved for the regular army officers who are clamoring for promotions.

THE KENTUCKIAN'S carriers are required to deliver the papers on the doorsteps of subscribers. If there is any negligence in this respect or any disposition to perform the work in a careless manner by throwing papers over the front gates, subscribers will please notify the office promptly and the trouble will be remedied.

The city elections in Indiana Tuesday resulted in decisive Democratic gains everywhere and in some important towns the Republicans were completely routed. Jefferson, New Albany, Huntington and Cannelton, were among the losing Democratic. Evansville and the Citizens' ticket, Fred D. Owens for Mayor, and Washington

A SPANIARD CUT HIM OUT.

But He Is Getting Measure For Measure Now—Romantic Story of Dewey's Early Life.

A Washington dispatch to the New York Herald says:

Club chatter among intimates of Commodore Dewey revives the fact of a previous encounter with Spain in which he did not come out first.

The devotion of Commodore Dewey to Miss Virginia Lowry, the handsome daughter of Archibald Lowery, one of the most prominent and wealthy of the exclusive "residential" set in Washington, is well known here. Miss Lowry was beautiful and a woman of definite views as to what would make up her happiness. When very young she became engaged to a dashing, untitled, impetuous Secretary of a Spanish Legation, Count Jack Brunetti.

Her father refused to sanction the affair, but, declining all other offers, even that of the present hero of the hour, Miss Lowry kept during 30 years her plighted troth. Three seasons ago, however, with the consent of her father, she became the wife of Duke D'Arcow, her devoted and loyal squire, who not only had inherited a title and estates, but represented his country as Minister to Mexico.

They say the Commodore resented bitterly his defeat by a foreign nation, and it is probably sent hot shots with added vim, recalling the horrid day when Jack Tar Cupid set Spain's flag above the Stars and Stripes on the trim craft of his heart's desire.

SHIPS BUT NO MONEY.

Spain in a Pitiable State of Financial Embarrassment.

London, May 3.—A Cadiz dispatch says that the second Spanish squadron, consisting of the warships Pelayo, Alfonso XIII, and Victoria, and a number of smaller ships, has nearly completed its preparations for active service. It is reported, however, that great difficulty is experienced in fitting out the ships, owing to lack of money. The British engineers have refused to serve on board of them, owing it is said, to the belief that they are liable to heavy punishment under the foreign enlistment act.

Post-Dispatch Ship Shots.

Maria Christina is not Queen of the May this year.

The Spaniard is a great roarer, but a poor marksman.

Many people have built castles in Spain, but French capitalists have real investments there.

It was Maine-Isle while Dewey's guns were turned on the Spanish warships.

The readiness with which the Spaniards turn defeat into victory on paper may be highly commendable, but it will not rebuild shattered fleets.

Mr. Parker, of Illinois, who has never worn a hat, is more patriotic than Dr. Dingley, who indulges himself with one not made in the United States.

The girlcott of all French goods by American women would indeed be a blow to France, but one which she will richly deserve if she continues to uphold the Spanish batchers. The purchasing power of the American women is enormous, as many heads of the families can testify.

Born With a Tooth.

The wife of Mr. George Wortham, one of the leading citizens of the Sinking Fork vicinity, presented him with a fine girl baby this week. The child when born had cut a lower front tooth. Dr. L. J. Harris says that in his thirty-five years of practice this is the first case of the kind that has come under his observation.

Meeting of Old Soldiers.

A call meeting of all old soldiers, their wives and daughters, will be held at the Masonic Hall in Hooper's block Saturday evening May 7th, at 1 o'clock. Business of importance will claim the attention of all old soldiers. All members of William Simmons' Post are requested to be on their seats. Mrs. J. Moore will address the ladies.

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

The Latest Program Flapped Out For Sampson.

Key West, May 4.—The Government's plans for a concerted land and naval attack on Havana are about complete, and, while the city is more the special object of attack it is safe to say that the days of Spanish domination in Cuba are at an end.

Admiral Sampson has divided his fleet as a result of a prolonged conference between the ship commanders, held almost under the guns of Morro Castle, and after assigning the rest of his command to maintain the blockade, he headed a procession into Key West, which brought the battle ships Iowa and Indiana, the cruisers Cincinnati and Detroit, and the dispatch boat Mayflower trailing along after him. All have been coaling here ever since, and will start south again with bunkers filled to their utmost capacity.

Off the Cuban coast they will be joined by two of the three double turreted monitors, probably the Puritan and the Amphitrite, and then Admiral Sampson will open the sealed orders which were delivered to him here yesterday. It is pretty generally understood that he made as strong a protest as an Admiral can to going to sea blindfolded for a second time, and there is no doubt that he conveyed to Washington, in diplomatic language, the fact that both he and his men feel that the time has arrived when they should be cut loose. He received voluminous replies from headquarters, but they directed him simply to take all the coal he could and sail.

These instructions are taken to mean that the Government has decided to permit some of the smaller vessels of the fleet to continue the blockade while the big ships will start for Porto Rico or beyond to head off Spain's formidable squadron which Portugal pushed away from Cape Verde Islands a few days ago.

The squadron will reach Porto Rico short of coal and crippled by a long sea voyage, and will fall a comparatively easy prey to our boats, although it is made up of the cream of Spain's navy. Not to head it off east of Porto Rico would be to permit it to renew supplies and get in fighting trim for attack upon some of our own coast cities.

But before Admiral Sampson leaves Cuban waters he has yet to shoot a pathway into the island for the entrance of the army of invasion, and I understand that he will stop off Matanzas to-morrow and complete the work he began there last Wednesday by reducing the fortifications at that port. He will make it possible for the steamship State of Texas, loaded with supplies for the reconcentrados, to land with the Red Cross nurses under escort of the 800 marines of the Panther and such other troops as may be thought necessary. The Government is proving its intentions to land these supplies by keeping the Panther's army of blue jackets on board as well as by arranging for the prompt transportation of the land forces now in camp at Tampa, when that is necessary.

An Arkansas Democrat.

The first official to resign his position in the executive department at Washington for the purpose of entering the army was E. E. White, of Arkansas, chief of the Indian division in the interior department. He is captain of a company of militia, and the moment he heard of the President's call for troops he wrote his resignation and offered it to Secretary Bliss, who told him that the place would be filled by a substitute during his absence and that he would be regarded to duty when he returned from the war. The secretary congratulated Mr. White upon having an opportunity to fight for his country and wished him pleasant experience and a safe return. When assured that his position would be held until his return, Mr. White looked up with considerable surprise and observed: "I'm a Democrat."

"That's alright," replied Secretary Bliss, "I don't care what your politics is, I only know you are a good clerk." "Thank you sir," replied Mr. White, and he started for the door. "Hold on a minute," called the secretary. "What kind of a Democrat are you?" "I am an Arkansas Democrat."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

At a meeting of the bar held at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning, the following resolutions were adopted: 1st. Resolved, That in the death of Hon. T. J. Morrow, the bar of Hopkinsville has lost a valuable member, society an ornament, his friends a warm, enthusiastic associate, and his family a devoted husband and affectionate father.

2nd. In all the relationships of life Judge Morrow possessed in a marked degree that individuality which has in all times and ages given men power and influence. And be it said to his credit that power and influence were always exerted for good; good to his friends, good to his family and good to his country.

3d. His character was of that inflexible type, his courage of that sterling quality, his life of that consistent, honest, upright tenor that no duty to be performed affected either his courage or fidelity. It can be truly said of him when he died "he took a man with him."

4th. Judge Morrow was a man of character, honor, integrity and unbounded courage. All his goings and comings exhibited these sterling characteristics. His high sense of right, his unblemished character, his untarnished honor, his unyielding courage all combined to secure him the friendship and the admiration that he so richly received at the hands of his fellow men.

5th. His life was as simple as a child's—always avoiding ostentation and show. His heart was as tender as a woman's, and his heart and hands were always open to the needy and distressed. His place will not soon be filled—his services were needed by friends and country.

7th.—We deplore his loss. We revere his memory. And to his bereaved family we extend our heartfelt sympathy in their great bereavement and affliction.

Scene of the First Sea Fight.

Cavite is a fortified seaport town of the Island of Luzon, on which Manila, the capital of the Philippine Islands is situated. Cavite is in the bay of Manila, and about ten miles southwest of the city of Manila. The town of Cavite has a population of more than 5000, and the population of the port is less than 600. There is an arsenal at Cavite.

The Bay of Manila is a landlocked sea, the entrance to which is 12 miles wide, contracted by numerous islands into channels. One of these is Boce Grande, three miles wide; the other is Boca Chila, two miles wide. The bay is 30 miles long from north to south and 25 from east to west.

It is on this bay that the forts defending the capital are situated. Manila is situated on Manila Bay, at the mouth of the River Pasig, at the mouth of the river and the sea, and its suburbs extend over numerous islets, formed by the river and its branches. The River Pasig is prolonged into the bay by two piers. At the end of one of them is a small fort, and a light-house is situated at the end of the pier. Vessels of small tonnage can go up as far as the bridge which crosses the river. The town stands on the south side, with a dilapidated look, but is said to be strongly fortified.

On the north side is the Binondo suburb, which is the residence of foreign merchants and the center of trade. It is more populous than the city itself. Manila has both a Spanish and an Oriental appearance. There are long lines of heavily mounted batteries, dark looking churches, strange looking towers and massive houses of solid masonry. These mingle with light little houses or cottages, in groves of tropical trees, raised from the ground by posts in order to permit the free passage of waters in the rainy season. The streets are straight, mostly unpaved, and they are almost impassable during the rainy season.

In the city houses are two stories high and each has a central courtyard. There are several large squares in Manila, the largest of which is the Prado, in which is situated the bronze statue of Charles IV. Manila municipality dates from the year 1571, when the city was founded by Legaspi. It is a splendid, natural trade centre and ranks with Calcutta. Being the chief port in the Philippine Islands, all the productions flow there, and its harbor is visited by a great number of vessels of all sorts and sizes.

Low Rates to Norfolk.

On account of the Southern Baptist Convention, which meets in Norfolk, Va., the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad will run a special train, leaving Louisville Tuesday, May 3, at 1:30 p. m., reaching Norfolk at 2:30 p. m. next day. Round trip from Louisville to Norfolk and return $18.50. Round trip from Louisville to Norfolk and return, via Washington $17. In addition to the Baptist special tickets may be purchased on regular trains of May 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, round returning within 15 days, with additional extension of 15 days by depositing tickets with C. & O. agent in Norfolk. The Chesapeake & Ohio railway is the only direct line to Norfolk and is the only line which can offer a direct reversible route which will include both Norfolk and Washington. The rate for the round trip to Norfolk and return by the direct route is lower than any other route can offer, and delegates may rest assured of the fact that should any rate by any line to Washington be subsequently named lower than the rate herein quoted, they will have the benefit of such rate over the picturesque historic Chesapeake & Ohio railway.

WEDDING AT OWENSBORO.

Brilliant Nuptials of Mr. Williams and Miss Anderson.

The largest and most brilliant event this year was the marriage Tuesday night of Miss Patty Bransford Anderson and Mr. J. McFarland Williams, at the elegant home of the bride's father, Mr. T. S. Anderson, on Fredericka.

The marriage ceremony was performed in the large drawing room, beneath a bower of daisies and smilax, and with the banks of palms made a beautiful effect. Rev. C. P. Luce officiated, and Mrs. W. J. Hon presided at the piano.

Miss Sue Harris Anderson, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. The other bride's maids were Misses Caroline Griswold, Decatur, Ill., Blanche Slaughter, Genes Brashers, Margaret Tompkins, and Jessie Frayser. Mr. Hawes B. Eagles acted as best man and Messrs. Perkins Stuart, Montgomery, Ala.; Charlie Jackson, Louisville; Simrall, Cincinnati; J. G. Taylor and W. C. Sweeney were groomsmen.

The bride wore a beautiful creation of white tulle and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bride's maids wore yellow and white and carried bouquets of daisies and smilax.—Owensboro Messenger.
